Testimonials

"Doing the shoot has changed the way I feel about being visible. I know that I can do it. I feel more confident in every aspect of my business. I'm prepared to face the world now." - Alli Graham

"She's fun, she's kind, and she can do epic things with a camera - you leave loving yourself more than when you arrived." - Laura Powner

Self Expression Specialist

Daring unconventional, creative and quirky women to develop the courage and confidence to live life unedited.

Marie-Claire Ashcroft, known as the Professional Rebel, is a Self-Expression Specialist. Using a combination of rebel confidence facilitation with branding photography she dares unconventional, creative and quirky women to show up as 'the YOU-est version of you'.

With her trademark smile and infectious energy, her background in low self-esteem and depression comes as a surprise to many, as does her inspiring personal journey from 'Sadsack to Superhero'.

Featured in Virgin Entrepreneur, the Counsellors Directory and Standard Issue Magazine as a happiness expert, she's helped 100s of women across the globe with her unique and intuitive approach. daring them to change the lens through which they see themselves and develop the courage and confidence to live life unedited.

Clients have described her as a game changing life coach; her membership community as mind blowing; and that she helps her clients feel understood and truly seen by being incredibly in tune with their needs - 'What you do saves lives'.
